

Confidentiality of Records and Release of Confidential Information

Sharing your personal Information with other people

All of the people supported by the Community Living Society have information written about them on the computer.

My information records what I do my money, and visits to my doctor.

I can choose to see my information when I say.

My information is private.

I say who can see my information.

If I need help to see my information I can ask.